

Human Resources by David Mayer

David Mayer is a graduate of the illustration program offered at Sheridan College. He enjoys being creative not only with the illustrations that he produces but in his daily routine as well. He usually tries to draw and paint work that tells a story, proves a point or expresses a concept.